Love one another as I have loved you

This Sunday in John's Gospel Christ distils down all of the rules and regulations and commandments into one for us his disciples; "What I command you is to love one another"

On the face of it this is a very simple code of conduct. We will find joy in loving one another as Christ loves us, and this itself is a reflection of Christ's love for his Father in Heaven. We should not mix up "simple" with "easy" though. We are human, and even when trying our best we fail at times.

It is a great joy to us as it was to Peter and the disciples that our one and only real commandment from Jesus is to love. If we can do this and do it as Christ does then the rest of the rule book can be torn up and thrown away. When you love someone you will do nothing to hurt them. It is only by abiding and remaining in Jesus every day, every week that we can truly achieve this spirit of love for those around us.

each other
as I have loved you.
John 15:12
